Connolly retains post

The school board wrangled for two hours and ten minutes last night, in a special meeting, over procedural difficulties, and finally decided that Glen Connolly, who was elected, or maybe was elected Vice-Chairman of the School Board, was so elected.

The meeting had been called at the request of Arthur J. Brewster who believed that the minutes of the previous meeting should be corrected.

A week ago, during the annual election, Connolly was elected Vice Chairman on a motion of Arthur V. Lynch. The motion by Mr. Lynch, at that time, was that Connolly be elected. There were four votes in favor, and inasmuch as this was a majority, there was no further vote. Brewster had been nominated for Vice Chairman.

Last night, the special meeting was called 'to discuss as business of this special meeting, the record of the minutes of March 10th.

Brewster opened the meeting by moving 'I move that the page of the minutes of the March 10, 1965 meeting of the Wilmington School Committee, now under consideration, be corrected with the result of an election for vice-chairman to be inserted in minutes after the election of chairman and before the election of secretary, and that the action taken at the March 10, 1965 meeting, with the exception of the change in meeting time, then, be accepted as official. Said election to take place immediately after the passage of this motion'.

Mr. Connolly was not present last night, but there were eight interested spectators, including his mother.

Brewster immediately ran into a snarl of procedural difficulties, involving arguments about Roberts Rules of Order and the town By-Laws.

Arthur Lynch opened the discussion by saying 'Your motion is predicated on the minutes, which at this time are not official'. George Robertie questioned twice - 'Why did we call this meeting?' and finally Dick Keane answered 'I cannot speak for him - I am waiting for him to state his problem'.

The meeting disintegrated into a maze of opinions. Hartnett observ-

Open House

in the Garden of Eden

For five years George and Yvonne Dahlberg have conducted a Day Camp for children, in the Garden of Eden, in South Wilmington.

Although the old timers of Wilmington know of the wonders of the Garden of Eden, they do not know much of the camp. It has been a busy place, with no time to devote to neighbors. It wasn't that George and Yvonne were being rude, but that were busy fixing up their place, to their satisfaction.

Now the time has come to be gracious.

George and Yvonne have a fully staffed set of competent teachers. They have all the latest and most modern facilities to adequately care for and teach children between the ages of three and five. There is a swimming pool, a playground, a ball field, and gym equipment. There is a beautiful building, capable of accommodating 19 children at any session.

The couple conduct a day school from September through to June. They are now opening the school to Wilmington children, for the remainder of the school year, and they are planning a program of day camping, for older children during the summer.

But George and Yvonne are not inviting people to come up and see them just to drum up business. They want to meet the people of Wilmington socially. There will be a Coffee Hour, Saturday and Sunday, in the afternoons, for the people who want to see the latest acquisition to the famed Garden of Eden.

HONOR STUDENTS OF 1965: As announced by High School Principal Bernard McMahon. L to R: Albert Cuoco, Class Will; Peter Emery, Essayist, Joanne Baker, Salutatorian; Barbara McLain, Class Marshall; Paul Malatesta, Prophecy; Paul Bannister, Valedictorian, and Joan Draheim, Historian.

The Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit Wilmington, Friday, March 19th. The Bloodmobile will be at the Friendship Lodge Masonic Hall from 2 pm until 6:45 pm.

Everyone between the ages of 18 to 65 may donate but those between the ages of 18 to 20 must have written parental consent.

Blood may be given safely five times a year, with a minimum of two months between each donation. Food may be consumed before each donation but refrain from fatty foods, such as, butter, eggs, cream and mayonnaise.

Everyone is welcome whether they are giving in the name of an organization, business or protecting their families blood needs individually. This is an opportunity to donate locally and safeguard the needs of their neighbors and fellow citizens as well as themselves for the coming year.

Industrial arts and fashion show tonight

The sixth annual Industrial Arts Show, combined with exhibits of the Adult Evening School and the Home Economics Classes, are to be held tonight, in Wilmington High School.

The programs start at 7 pm and will last until 9:30 pm.

One exhibit, at 7 pm, will be the prize winning exceptional jobs of the students in the Industrial Arts division of the High School. Eight have been chosen, from which one will be given the Outstanding Work Award, sometime today, by a committee composed of Supt. of Schools Harold Shea, and High School Principal Bernard McMahon.

The High School girls who are studying Home Economics, together with seventh and eighth grade girls from the North Intermediate School, will have an exhibit in the Small Cafeteria, starting at 7pm, on clothing, child care and family living. The girls have been in charge of Mrs. Robert Lowry, and Mrs. John McDermott, High School teachers, and Miss Gail Courage of the North School.

The Evening Practical Arts School will conduct its exhibit in the High School gymnasium. There will be a Fashion Show, at 7:30 pm, and the work of the various classes will be on exhibit until 9 pm.

All Calm

The Town Crier, last week, for the lack of space, was unable to print a story about how Patrolman Dick Palmer followed a couple of small time bandits up Grove Ave. and finally arrested them. Only after they were arrested was it learned that the men were unarmed. It was said that they had been involved in crimes in Billerica.

Meanwhile all is calm in Wilmington. For the first time in two years there is nothing on the police docket, no need for anyone to attend court and testify about some person kicking in a window, or bashing some one on the head.

Oh yes! The police still haven't found the little fellow who escaped wearing a pair of handcuffs. They have a warrant out for his arrest. They want those handcuffs back!

TIME TO WIDEN LOWELL STREET

A year ago, in the Town Meeting, the Selectmen had a proposal to widen Lowell Street, using funds from Chapter 90. The widening was to be between Woburn Street and West Street.

Prior to the Town Meeting the Town Crier had argued against this. The Town Crier pointed out that if the town would wait for a period of time there would undoubtedly be Federal monies available for just this particular purpose. The Town Crier felt that it would be foolish to spend local money for this.

Residents of Lowell Street and Strout Avenue opposed the proposition for a different reason.

They wanted to retain the rural atmosphere of a maple shaded street. They wanted the narrow road. And, they were afraid of speeding automobiles, which might harm their children.

It must be admitted that these points were worthy of consideration.

But now the Federal Government has come through with an offer. $200,000 has been allocated for the widening of Lowell Street, from Main Street to West Street. $100,000 of this is Federal money and $100,000 is State money. None is town money.

The proposal is to widen Lowell Street to a sixty foot right-of-way. The paved surface would be forty-four feet wide. There would be two sidewalks, each five feet wide. And there would be two planting strips - grass and trees, between the sidewalks and the paved street.

The proposal, as reported, is all the way from Main Street to West Street.

And the residents of that part which is near Strout Avenue is again up in arms. This, of course, might have been expected.

Their position is understood, but the time has come to accept the offer of the Federal Government.

Lowell Street is no longer a Country Lane. It is the major route of access to Avco, where several thousand cars are parked every day, all of which seek the easiest and quickest way home, each evening.

A four lane highway is necessary. There is no alternative.

The plans, with sidewalks, and planting strips, and trees, will not only do much towards retaining the present character of the street, but will also offer more safety to the children, for a sidewalk is far safer than a street for a playground.

Only one house between Woburn and West streets will be seriously affected by the plans, and that is the old Gowing Swain house, which is now empty, and is scheduled for demolition, as it is beyond a state of repair.

In a couple of instances the new sidewalk will begin where present front walks end. In one instance a homeowner will lose a few feet of his front walk.

All the town will have to pay will be for the land damages - which admittedly could be more than a small sum. It would have to pay for those damages if it constructed the street itself, as was proposed a year back.

The Town Crier is not certain as to who would pay for the sidewalks, but there is a possibility that the Federal Government would pay.

The time has come to accept the offer - before it is withdrawn.

PENNY & RAFFLE SALE

The Wilmington Little League Boosters Penny and Raffle Sale will be held Saturday night, March 20th, at 8 pm at the North Intermediate School.

Radio stations WBZ and WMEX will carry an announcement of the Penny Sale.

The good Merchants and Industries of the Town have donated the prizes to be given away. There are over 200 prizes which include a television set, radios, electric can openers, irons, electric mixers and toasters, bountiful food baskets, plus many other valuable prizes worth hundreds of dollars. Admission is free!

The Town Crier has received this letter from the Little League Boosters.

Dear Larz,
We of the Little League Boosters, at this time, are sending out an appeal to make our Penny and Raffle Sale a big success. This event will be held at the North Intermediate School on the night of March 20th, at 8 pm. The need for money this year is greatly enlarged because of the building of Little League Rotary Park. This drive is being held to supply a beautiful concession stand there, plus other new expenditures.

In our time of need, we would like to have you attend this Penny and Raffle Sale and make this year a successful one for Wilmington Little Leaguers.

Thanking you very much we remain,
The Wilmington Little League Boosters

Letter to Editor

To Those Who Care:

There seems apparent, these days, a National 'Anti' Flag drive on to abolish all thoughts of love of Country. Prayer was removed from public life, with no more than a few words in protest and now we are eliminating our pledge to the flag, next will come the elimination of the flag itself. Does anyone care?

The government owned project for the elderly here is now without a flag. It has been so for several months now, and there is no effort being made to use the 'ban-nerless' flag pole.

Are we waiting for the hammer and sickle of Red Russia to take over, or will some civic minded group present an American flag to display with honor in our Town?

The last flag there, was presented to the Wilmington Housing Authority in honor of my brother who lies buried in the Soldiers and Sailors lot in Woodbrook Cemetery in Woburn. This flag was draped over his casket and given to me at his graveside by the American Legion Guard of Honor. It was with great pride that I presented it to the project.

The precious flag had also been given by one of the tenants as a living memorial to their son, who perished in defense of his country, but it is time for a replacement. Time to display our immortal emblem of Life, Liberty, and the Pursuit of Happiness, time to ignore the dubious taking away our flag.

It is time to stand up and be counted in defense of your country. This cannot be accomplished without 'Old Glory' in its proper place of honor.

TOWN NOTES

Devotion

Someone, we know not who, except that he works for Sweetheart Plastics, went to see a movie entitled 'Sex and the Single Girl'. He couldn't tell anything about the movie, next day, except that in a scene in a cafeteria Tony Curtis was holding an 'L-30' in his hand, an L 30 being the company name for one of the plastic cups made by Sweetheart.

Selma Bound

The Rev. Terry Clay Thomason of the Methodist Church should be arriving in Selma, Alabama, at just about as these words are being read.

When he told the boys in Rotary yesterday that he was on his way there was a spontaneous passing of the hat, to help Terry defray expenses.

One Rotarian, alleged to be a friend (?), told Terry it was for a one-way ticket.

Good Finders

Two stories have come to the attention of the Town Crier during the past few weeks of kiddoes who knew how to be good. Perhaps, in some instances at least, it just comes naturally.

Cheryl Nardone is an 11 year old girl who lives on Butters Row, and a few weeks ago, while a group of people were making a 'drive' (collecting funds) one of them lost a bundle of money, part of the funds, in a snow bank off Butters Row.

Cheryl found the money, and somehow found out where it came from. It was returned - every cent, - and she made the people of one of the fund drives in Wilmington realize that there are some good children.

Then, last week, Richard Keller, a 12 year old boy on West Street, found a brand new portable typewriter. He took it home, and his father called the police. As a result Officer Harvey was sent down to look where the typewriter had been found - near Route 93, and a brand new adding machine was found - one valued at $800. It was part of the loot from a break in Lawrence, last January, and both typewriter and adding machine were turned over to the Lawrence police.

A New Saint?

Francis Hurley, of Winchester, the speaker at the Holy Name Society last Sunday, was one of the more impressive speakers that it has been our good fortune to hear, in recent months. His picture appears on Page 10 of this issue.

Mr. Hurley described his own town as 'Lily White Winchester', a term which describes his attitude towards mankind. His joke about Father Berube was that the good priest was leading a movement to have Martin Luther canonized.

Selectmen's Meeting

WAVIE DREW IS CHAIRMAN OF SELECTMEN

Mrs. Wavie Drew was elected Chairman of the Board of Selectmen at the conclusion of the Monday meeting of that board. The vote was 3-2. Selectman Paul Niles had nominated Lloyd Bender, but the nomination was not seconded. Mrs. Drew was nominated by Selectman Black, and seconded by Rene LaRivee.

She will take office next Monday.

Fluoridation

The Board received a letter from Rep. Fred F. Cain, announcing that they will vote against Senate 515, and House 1397, the legislative proposals that would put the power of deciding on fluoridation of water supplies in the hands of local elected officials. The board had previously asked Mr. Cain to so vote.

Licenses

A First Class Dealer's license was renewed, that of George Wilson of Andover Street, for Wilson's Equipment and Sales.

A Second Class license was issued to Albert Fiorenza, of West Street. Issuance of second class licenses is a very rare occurrence by the Wilmington Selectmen.

Mr. Fiorenza operates the Koffee Kart wholesale supply house, and also the Alco Leasing & Sales which supplies trucks to people who operate the Koffee Kart type of business. He had previously operated both in Stoneham, before moving to Wilmington this past winter.

A previous application was denied by the Selectmen on Dec. 7, 1964, and Fiorenza reapplied on December 21st, at which time the application was tabled pending study of the situation. The Selectmen are loathe to issue Second Class licenses because they feel this will lead to the creation of automobile junk yards.

A letter was written to the Town Counsel, for advice. The letter was read Monday night, and judging by the Selectmen's responses they were not too happy about what was said.

Mrs. Drew felt that the Selectmen could not do for one person what it would not do for another, and inasmuch as the Board had made refusals of Second Class licenses in the past, it should do so now.

Selectman Bender thought that a Second Class license should be judged on individual merit. He felt in this case it was merited. Chairman LaRivee stated that if the license were for the sale of Second Class equipment he would be opposed, but that he had inspected the property, and found that Mr. Fiorenza was mounting new truck bodies on new chassis. LaRivee felt that Fiorenza was not entitled to a First Class license because he was not a franchised New Car salesman.

Charles Black finished the discussion by saying that according to the letter of the Town Counsel the Board did not have the right to issue a Second Class license to Mr. Fiorenza.

The Board then voted three to two to issue the license, with Black and Drew in opposition.

Rotary Carnival

The Selectmen voted to grant permission to the Rotary Club to conduct a carnival at Rotary Park from April 19th to April 24th, but with the stipulation that the closing time be 10:30 pm.

The carnival has been under discussion for several weeks, and the Selectmen had an appointment with Bernard McMahon, in his capacity as a Rotarian, for 9:30 pm. But they voted before McMahon arrived, and left at 9:10 pm.

The Selectmen, in their discussion, noted that the Rotary Club had done an excellent job of converting an old swamp and cranberry bog into a nice park. Selectman Black believed that the sum of money spent to date was about $30,000, and that every cent made in the carnival would further improve the park.

The Selectmen also discussed the fact that in prior years there had been a protest about noise, or about somebody driving across a lawn, as a result of the carnival of previous years.

They were told by the publisher of the Town Crier that he, as a Rotarian, some years ago, had taken part in a survey, and at that time, out of fifty neighboring families interviewed, only one was against the carnival, and two undecided.

The Selectmen voted to grant the license, but with a stipulation that the carnival close at 10:30 pm, suggested by Selectman Bender.

Mr. McMahon

After the Selectmen had left and the Town Hall was empty except for the Board of Health meeting in a side room, Mr. McMahon arrived. The door to the Selectmen's room was closed -- but the Selectmen have held Executive sessions, behind closed doors.

McMahon sat down and waited. At 9:40 the Board of Health meeting broke up. Only then did Mr. McMahon learn that the Selectmen had left twenty-five minutes earlier.

The Town Meeting

Wanted: A library -- and no partial appraisals

By percentage, the annual town meeting, held last Saturday was Wilmington's poorest attended Annual meeting in years.

450 voters were present for the afternoon session and 408 for the evening session. There are over 6500 registered voters in Wilmington.

The unofficial tax rate, as announced by the Finance Committee at the end of the meeting was $39.92, or $39.00, up a dollar from last year.

A total of $3,362,344.11 was voted, of which $3,273,310 was for 'budget' items, and $89,034.11 for 'article' items. The town voted to borrow $465,429, mainly for water improvements.

Outstanding Silence

The outstanding silence of the meeting was that which followed the call for a vote on partial appraisal of taxable properties, in a three year program.

For six months the town has been embroiled in an argument over the taxing of industrial properties, and it still is not settled to the satisfaction of some people.

The argument, in one form at least, resumed last Saturday, when in the discussion of Article Four, (the budget article) the voters arrived at the point where salaries for the Board of Assessors was to be discussed.

Joseph F Courtney, formerly the town manager of Wilmington, now a college professor and a lawyer, and one of the attorneys in the so-called 'tax fight' demanded a break down on the assessors' salaries. He was quite flinty about his demand. He asked for, and got details.

It resolved that a sum of $3000 was being paid for an outside appraiser, who was to be employed for sixty days, at $50 a day, to assist the town's appraiser. TM Gerald Bouchard described the appraiser as a 'technician' and told Courtney that this was 'an expansion of the technical staff for a short period of time'.

Courtney pointed out that there was a relationship between this

SEVEN MINUTES AFTER THE MEETING WAS TO START: - A sea of empty chairs.

FOREIGN STUDENTS OBSERVE THE MEETING: Guests of the Wilmington League of Women Voters. From the camera; Richard Urban, from Kassel, Hesse, Germany; S A Nawab, Lahore, Pakistan; Vyomesh Vora, Bombay, India; and Yu Tsin Chou, from Taipei, Formosa. Not visible, behind the US flag, is Frederick Loung, from Germany.

The young lady is Patricia Sullivan, and beside her is Avco's Bob Sumberg, who made a formal presentation of the $6000 gift for planning, from five Wilmington firms.

A SURPRISE FOR THE TOWN COUNSEL: Philip Buzzell leaves the podium, after accepting a plaque as Outstanding Employee, from Rene LaRivee, chairman of Selectmen. Standing are Town Moderator Simon Cutter, LaRivee, and Finance Committeeman Fred Arsenault vote and the subject matter of Article 42 - and later, just before the recess for supper, he formally served notice that he reserved the right to take up the $3000 question at a later time, if he so chose.

Bouchard told the Town Meeting that the $3000 was to keep the work of assessing on a continuing basis, and that the work load was such that it would take an additional 2180 hours to get the job done this year. The $3000 was voted. Then - in the course of the meeting, at 9:30 pm the town arrived at Article 41.

The article was 'moved' by Selectman Mrs Wavie Drew. She asked for $11,670, for the first year of a three year contract to have an outside firm conduct a complete appraisal of the town. In routine fashion it was seconded, and the Finance Committee disapproved, on the grounds that the assessing department should take of this work with the extra $3000.

This was the first time in six months in which the 'common man' had an opportunity to be heard on this question.

Felice Vitale stood up. 'I lost the election' he said, 'but I didn't lose my voice'.

He urged that the people vote against the article. 'Maybe the assessor should work a little over-Courtney got up. He noted that the language of the Finance Committee was 'intriguing'.

It was, he told the voters, re-appraisal by the back door, or by the front door. 'This is the choice that is given to you'.

DELMONTE PEARS: Town Manager Jerry Bouchard had an answer for every question which was asked, all filled in this old packing case which stood behind him, on the podium.

'I would suggest that you are faced with semantically designed pettylogging!'

He thought the entire job could be done for $20,000 or less. 'Have the changes put into effect at one time!'

'Don't kill by inches - kill by yards!'

Someone asked the Finance Committee the cost of a complete reappraisal.

Bouchard said that it would cost $40,000. 'What is contemplated,' he said, 'is a complete reappraisal, to cost $40,000, and to take three years'.

Bob Michelson got up. 'When Courtney was town manager he had fine assessors. He was in favor of reappraisal. The Board of Assessors has the right, as approved by the courts, to assess part of the (Next page) town at a time - personally I am in favor of the Board of Assessors performing this job as they can. I am not in favor of one complete project.'

Bill Stickney, of the Finance Committee, got up. It was to be $11,670 this year he said - 'and until I get some answers I will vote against it.'

The Moderator called for the vote.

The silence was deafening.

Not one voice. Not one Selectman. Not even the Town Manager, said Aye.

Finally, after five seconds, there was a nervous laugh. It broke the tension.

Cutter called for the No vote, and it rolled in like a sea. The people of Wilmington were not in favor of a partial reappraisal.

Library Plans

The Selectmen may have missed a chance for a new town hall, when they moved to 'pass over' the article. Moderator Cutter warned LaRivee that he should 'table' but he wasn't heard.

The voters would brook no argument about a new library, when one started. Carl Noelke moved an amendment for a $100,000 appropriation, and the final vote was for $6000 for preliminary plans.

REZONING QUESTIONS: Mrs. Madeleine McKie, President of the League of Women Voters, speaking. The chart, standing on the podium, is of land at the corner of Woburn and Lowell Streets, which the Jackson Brothers sought to rezone for business purposes.

The town voted down every zoning proposal.

Joseph B McMahon honored by Salvation Army

Joseph B McMahon, of the Mechanics Savings Bank, was honored Monday evening, at the annual meeting of the Salvation Army, in the home of the chairman, Dr. John P. Silvers.

He was presented a plaque in recognition of his thirty seven years of service as Treasurer to the Salvation Army, 37 continuous years.

Ernest Stowe of 3 Meadow Lane, Field representative of the Salvation Army expressed the appreciation of the Salvation Army while Dr. Silvers thanked Mr McMahon in behalf of the members of the local unit, and the residents of the town, who generously support and make possible the work of the Salvation Army, in Wilmington.

At the meeting a summary was given of the work of the Service Unit in Wilmington over the past year.

Mrs Sylvia Levine, RN, reported that emergency aid had been given to families in the form of food, furniture, clothing and heat.

Miss Anne Butters, RN reported on distribution of Christmas stockings to shut-ins. Toys were provided for forty nine children at Christmas time.

Miss Butters reported that Wilmington children had been attending Camp Wonderland for a ten day period during the summer, and Mrs Levine read a letter from a mother who was thanking those who had made it possible for her children to have their first vacation.

The members of the committee voted to continue these services during the coming year. Funds for these projects will be raised by the annual appeal scheduled May 16 through May 31.

100% of the members of the committee were in attendance at the annual meeting for the second consecutive year.

Those who serve the Town of Wilmington are Dr. John P. Silvers chairman, Mrs John Silvers, secretary, Mrs Edward Page, newly elected treasurer, Mrs Sylvia Levine, welfare secretary, Joseph B McMahon, Mrs E S Ferguson, Mrs E H Martin, Mrs Guy Nichols and Miss Anne E Butters.

ed that the minutes are a part of the problem. Brewster called a point of order saying that there is no requirement that the minutes must wait for any meeting to be discussed, and Keane ca,e in with a 'Then your objection is a discussion without a formal motion-- why can't we discuss this in a friendly manner?'

Brewster felt a formal precedure should be followed. 'Once a motion is on the floor, you can discuss it anyway -- the meeting should be conducted by the by-laws.' He considered his original motion as proper and could not understand why Chairman Keane had ruled it out of order and questioned it.

The meeting went around in circles. Lynch asked if Brewster suggested that 'these are the minutes?' and Brewster said 'No, they are a copy of the minutes!' Lynch suggested that Brewster insert the words 'a copy of the minutes of the School Committee meeting of March 10' and Brewster agreed. Keane repeated the motion, and this time it was seconded and the first vote was finally held, allowing the 'copy' of the minutes to come before the meeting.

The meeting got back to the original motion by Brewster. Keane asked him 'let me understand this motion - what do you want to insert?'

Brewster: 'I am stating that there is no result of the election for Vice Chairman.'

Lynch: 'The cart is leading the horse. He (Brewster) is making a motion predicated on his conclusion that there is no vice chairman -- to which I take violent objection!'

Brewster: 'I submit my motion is correct - and I object to talking on the motion before it is seconded.'

The game continued, with each member talking in turn, but getting nowhere. Brewster finally asked: Will the chair please state why he has overruled my motion?

Keane: 'Because you stated, after this motion has passed you would, in effect make another motion for the election of a vice chairman, your intent being to strike this paragraph of the minutes and then insert something that would be a vote of this special meeting.'

Brewster: This motion as such is proper. Either defeat it, or let it be carried!

Lynch: Are you questioning the chair's right to rule on a motion? Then question in the proper manner! Explore this question, or leave it be!

The arguments continued. Brewster finally, after much discussion of Roberts Rules of Order, asked what had to be done to appeal the ruling of the chair. Keane read copiously from Roberts Rules and observed that he had not heard a second, and Hartnett came back with 'What's the original motion?'

To change the reading of the minutes of March 10, said Brewster. Hartnett then seconded.

This was at about half way through the meeting. Keane finally allowed a discussion on the appeal to the chair's judgement, and explained 'If you vote yes, then you vote in agreement of my ruling, if you vote no, the motion will be in order, over the objection.'

Chair Overruled

There was a three to two vote with the result that the chair was overruled, and the motion acceptable. Lynch and Keane were in the minority.

Brewster then finally moved that the 'minutes of the March 10 meeting be corrected'.

Lynch moved to amend, strike in entirety, and substitute: 'that page one of the purported minutes of the March 10 meeting be corrected'.

Robertie seconded.

Brewster appealed for a defeat of the amendment.

Lynch: This amendment would accomplish the purpose!

Brewster: I do not comprehend how anyone can interpret my reasons in putting forth my motion!

Lynch: I am makin no attempt to assess his motives, but he is predicating his motion on his interpretation!

Finally four members voted in favor of Lynch's amendment, with one opposed, and the amended motion was voted, also four to one.

Keane: Now we can proceed to correct the minutes!

Brewster: I move that paragraphs four and five of the purported minutes of March 10 be deleted and further that any corrections be subject to the annual election of a Vice Chairman.

Keane asked: Is there a second? Hearing none he said: we'll proceed with correcting the minutes!

Lynch pointed out that he had moved that Glen Connolly be elected, and not that he be nominated, and that the vote had been four to nothing, with no dissenting votes.

Robertie moved that the motion by Arthur Lynch, seconded by Hartnett, and carried four to nothing, be inserted into the minutes, having been omitted. It was seconded.

Brewster then argued that, according to the by-laws, section 9130, that the election of the Vice Chairman was conducted contrary to the by-laws, and is null and void.

He cited Roberts Rules of Order, Black's Law, and the By-Laws, and observed that he could not see how anyone in his conscience 'can vote for this coorection'.

Lynch held that the committee, last week, was a 'new committee' and that it had not adopted any by-laws.

The motion was voted, again four to one, with no dissenting votes.

But the arguments continued for another 15 minutes, and not until there was a motion to close debate was the issue finally settled.

Connolly was still vice chairman of the School Committee.

TOWN NOTES

Erin Go Bragh

There were green ties, and green carnations, and other things of green to be seen on the good people of Wilmington, yesterday, mostly on the non-Irish sons of Erin.

The only sign we saw though, was one on the Breakey home, on Middlesex Avenue. It was a big one, and as the title implies, it said, 'Erin Go Bragh'.

Roger Breakey comes by his Irish as a matter of heritage. 1. Can he pronounce it correctly? 2. Does he know what it means?

Parking

Now that the snows have gone there has been a decrease in the number of cars parked around

Wilmington Square --- although there are still plenty of them parked on Church Street between the Postoffice and Main Street. Most of the out of town cars, which were causing the parking troubles a few ago are now parked on the Boston & Maine land, which lies between the Wildcat and the Nashua Division tracks. There are at least 50 there, every day, and sometimes more.

It looks as though the Gendarmes will have no problems until the snows come again.

Every County owned building

Rep Fred Cain will visit

Representative Fred F Cain of Wilmington is going to visit every building in Massachusetts which is owned by any of the Counties. He is a member of the Committee on Counties, in the state legislature and the committee paid a surprise visit last Friday, to the Worcester County Jail, and House of Correction, and to the Worcester Court House.

The visit paid off, too. The Worcester Telegram had ly to be used by the Superintendent of the prison farm, who was listed on the county payroll as Joseph A Smith Jr., son of the sheriff. Representative Francis Bevilacqua, of Haverhill, one of the committee members, said that the committee had previously discussed and turned down a proposal to build such a house, and Cain was reporting saying, after the inspection, that the house cost 'a conservative $25,000'.

Rep Cain, in his office this weekend, reported that the prison was every four years. This was, he was told 'a routine practice'.

'I can't afford that in my own business!' he said grimly, 'and neither can the state!'

Cain announced that there will be more unannounced visits by the Committee on Counties.

'Budgets are going to be cut! I'm going to visit every institution under our charge. Taxes are too high, and I'm not fooling around!'

The Telegram also reported that Representative Bevilacqua wanted the visit for the Number One Story Saturday, together with a front page picture (reproduced in this issue) of Fred pointing at a house that he found to be very interesting.

The Headline was: Operation of County Jail Branded Poorest in State'.

The house was a home, apparant-in a sad state of repair, but that the house was in excellent condition. He used the word 'palace' in describing the house, and said that there was nothing wrong with the prison, except that it wasn't kept up, in repairs.

Cain also said that he learned in one office that the state was buying new electric typewriters a Cash Register, in the Court House, to record all the fines that were being paid.

EULOGY FOR THE REV. JAMES REEB: Was a part of the discussion Sunday morning, by Francis Hurley, of Winchester, before the Holy Name Society meeting in Villanova Hall. Mr. Hurley, a member of the Catholic Interracial Council, and the Archdiocesan Ecumenical Commission, returned from Selma, Alabama, a week ago.

JAMES F. CORUM ON DEAN'S LIST

James F. Corum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred T. Corum, of 115 Salem Street, North Wilmington, has been named to the Dean's List for the first semester of the academic year at Lowell Technological Institute. He is a member of the Class of 1965.

SCHOOL SYSTEM TO RECEIVE $26,903 FROM PUBLIC LAW 374

Wilmington School Superintendent Harold S. Shea has received a wire from Congressman F. Bradford Morse stating that the Department of Health, Education and Welfare has certified $26,903 for immediate payment to the school system under Public Law 374 program.

This program is designed to assist school districts who have an extra burden due to a heavy concentration of government installations or government contract work.

Congressman Morse has stated that this is extremely important to our schools and that he plans to support its continuation when it comes before the House this year.

Selma

Wilmington has a new family, who almost visited Selma, Alabama the other day.

Mr. and Mrs. Christian G. Bachman, of Culver City, California, have just moved into the Wilson home, on Marie Drive. They purchased it through the Pololans, and he works for Uncle Avco.

They drove from Culver City, he in a '54 Chevy, and she in the good car, and while they were at it, went the 'Southern' route.

They arrived in a place called Selma, about a week ago, and drove around looking for a place to spend the night.

The place wasn't very hospitable. Steely eyed strangers kept stopping them, and wanted to know what they were doing. When they said they were from California, and on their way to Massachusetts, they were told to 'keep going!'

So they did -- and they didn't stop until they had passed over the Alabama State Line.

Civil War Days

The first hundred years, since the Civil War, are almost at an end, and your columnist is sorry to have to report that he didn't write as many stories as he could have, of Wilmington boys in the War.

There is, for instance, the story of how Jimmy Hale came home from the war, told to us by his daughter, - this is the story we have always loved best - maybe we'll be able to tell it for Memorial Day.

We started studying Civil War history back in the days of World War II, while we were commanding a troop transport.

Most of the officers in the early days of that war, in the US Army were 'Rebs' - southern boys who had joined the army, because there was nothing to do in the deep South during the Depression. Now they were Majors and Captains, and always boasting about how the Southern Officers were saving the United States, and of the exploits of such people as Stonewall Jackson.

So we boned up on the subject, and when some Rebel was busy boasting about how the South had the best officers we would ask a simple question - something about Why did Stonewall deploy as he did at Kernstown - or what was the real story about 'Prince John' Magruder.

We almost always stumped those Rebs, too.

Now we have been reading the Butlers advt., in our own paper, about Tours of Distinction, and how they visit such places as Williamsburg, Fredericksburg, Richmond and Gettysburg.

It makes us wish we had the time to go down and see those places about which we were 'snowing' the Rebels.
